

Keep It and Call

Don't Rush to Cut!

When a youth presents you with an ID that clearly identifies they are under 18 years old, don't rush to cut it in half—that could cost you hundreds of dollars in court costs and fines. Cutting up a youth's ID could lead to a charge of malicious destruction of property and a court date.

Instead, consider calling the police to report you obtained the ID of a youth attempting to purchase tobacco illegally. If they are participating in an undercover decoy operation, the officer will immediately come in to claim the ID.
